NetCents rolls out crypto platform with help from new merchant partner

NetCents Technology Inc (CSE:NC) said Thursday it has inked a five-year independent sales organization (ISO) reseller agreement with a top merchant service and point-of-sale terminal provider (MSP).

This means that the undisclosed MSP will now partner with NetCents to begin deploying the NetCents cryptocurrency payment platform to financial institutions, merchant acquirers and card issuers globally.

This agreement marks the 20th partner agreement that the Vancouver company has signed since it kicked off its partner programs last August. Via these contracts, NetCents has access to hundreds of thousands of merchants, as well as a sales force of agents who actively sell NetCents to merchants.
