Tesco PLC

09:44 25 Jun 2019

Tesco, Sainsbury’s, Asda and Morrisons lose more market share to Aldi and Lidl

The UK’s four biggest supermarkets all lost market share in the 12 weeks to June 16 due to growing competition from German discounters Aldi and Lidl, industry data showed on Tuesday.

Kantar Worldpanel said Tesco PLC (LON:TSCO) remained the UK’s largest supermarket but its share of the grocery market fell 0.4 percentage points (ppts) to 27.3% on flat sales during the period.

READ: Why Tesco’s Finest* convenience stores make perfect sense
Number two supermarket, J Sainsbury PLC (LON:SBRY), saw its market share dip 0.3 ppts to 15.3% as sales fell 0.6%. However, the drop in sales was half the rate of decline reported last month due to an increase in more affluent shoppers.

“The rise in wealthier shoppers bodes well for Sainsbury’s and its plans to shake up its fresh offer, which will place more emphasis on counters, bakeries and food to go,” said Fraser McKevitt, head of retail and consumer insight at Kantar.

Sainsbury’s has been trying to revive sales after its bid to merge with Asda was blocked by the UK Competition and Markets Authority in April.

READ: Sainsbury’s blocked merger with Asda could end up costing it over £1bn in charges and a battered share price
Kantar said Asda’s market share declined 0.2 ppts to 14.9% and sales dropped 0.1%.

WM Morrison Supermarket PLC (LON:MRW) sales decreased by 0.5% and its market share decreased 0.2 ppts to 10.4%.

Aldi, on the other hand, grew market share by 0.5 ppts to 7.9% as sales gained 9.3%. Lidl’s market share increased 0.3 ppts to 5.7% and its sales rose 9.3%.

"Once again, Lidl and Aldi will likely take most satisfaction from these figures, but the discounters together recorded ‘merely’ +6.2% growth in sales (vs +7.5% last month) and +67bps gain in market share (vs +80 bps last month),” Barclays said.

Cold start to summer leads to modest growth
Overall supermarket sales rose 1.4% over the 12 weeks.

Kantar’s McKevitt said: “The modest level of current growth is thanks in no small part to the wet start to the summer, with last year’s heatwave and the run up to the men’s FIFA World Cup making 2018 a difficult year to top.

“These challenges are reflected in typical summer categories: in the past four weeks sales of ice cream were £15mln lower than this time last year, while beer is down £17mln and burgers £6mln.”
He added: "However, even unseasonable clouds have a silver lining. Shoppers sought refuge from the cooler weather and spent more on traditional comfort foods, with fresh and tinned soup sales up by 8% and 16% respectively."
Proactive Investors facilitate the largest global investor network across 4 continents in 4 languages. With a team of analysts, journalists & professional investors Proactive produce independent coverage on 1000's of companies across every sector for private investors, private client brokers, fund managers and international investor communities.

Contact us +44 (0)207 989 0813 action@proactiveinvestors.com

No investment advice

The Company is a publisher. You understand and agree that no content published on the Site constitutes a recommendation that any particular security, portfolio of securities, transaction, or investment strategy is suitable or advisable for any specific person. You understand that the Content on the Site is provided for information purposes only, and none of the information contained on the Site constitutes an offer, solicitation or recommendation to buy or sell a security. You understand that the Company receives either monetary or securities compensation for our services. We stand to benefit from any volume which any Content on the Site may generate.

You further understand that none of the information providers or their affiliates will advise you personally concerning the nature, potential, advisability, value, suitability or profitability of any particular security, portfolio of securities, transaction, investment, investment strategy, or other matter. You understand that the Site may contain opinions from time to time with regard to securities mentioned in other products, including Company-related products, and that those opinions may be different from those obtained by using another product related to the Company. You understand and agree that contributors may write about securities in which they or their firms have a position, and that they may trade such securities for their own account. In cases where the position is held at the time of publication and such position is known to the Company, appropriate disclosure is made. However, you understand and agree that at the time of any transaction that you make, one or more contributors may have a position in the securities written about. You understand that price and other data is supplied by sources believed to be reliable, that the calculations herein are made using such data, and that neither such data nor such calculations are guaranteed by these sources, the Company, the information providers or any other person or entity, and may not be complete or accurate.

From time to time, reference may be made in our marketing materials to prior articles and opinions we have published. These references may be selective, may reference only a portion of an article or recommendation, and are likely not to be current. As markets change continuously, previously published information and data may not be current and should not be relied upon.

The Site does not, and is not intended to, provide investment, tax, accounting, legal or insurance advice, and is not and should not be construed as providing any of the foregoing. You should consult an attorney or other relevant professional regarding your specific legal, tax, investment or other needs as tailored to your specific situation.