Walcom Group (LON:WALG) 0.37p £0.26m

Walcom announced it is in negotiations regarding the proposed disposal of its entire interest in its subsidiary Walcom Bio-Chem (Thailand) Company Limited, to the General Manager of, and 40% shareholder in, Walcom Thailand. As announced previously, Walcom's working capital position remains severely constrained. The board of the Company now believes that without further action, the Company may not be able to meet its liabilities as they fall due by the middle of April 2019. The directors of Walcom therefore believe that the Proposed Disposal is a necessary action to ease the Company's immediate short-term working capital position. If the Proposed Disposal is completed, it is expected that the net proceeds of the disposal will be received prior to the middle of April 2019. The Company continues to consider all other possible options to improve the Company's working position.

Coral Products (LON:CRU) 11.75p £9.7m

The specialist in the design, manufacture and supply of plastic products, announces that its new 360 degree plastic recycling plant will be officially opened at Haydock this morning by Councillor Lynn Clarke, cabinet member at St Helens Council with responsibility for its green, smart and sustainable portfolio.

With a capacity of a ton an hour it will process Polypropylene, HD and PVC plastic materials. The subsequent material will be used to manufacture new products through the company's injection moulders and extrusion profile machinery.

There has been a high level of interest in the plant from local authorities.

"It is an exciting time at Coral. Recycling and the Environment is high on Coral's agenda, and as such we are proud to introduce a bespoke recycling unit into our business."
