New Scancell chief sets out his vision to commercialise groundbreaking cancer treatments

Cliff Holloway, chief executive of Scancell Holdings Plc (LON:SCLP), spoke to Proactive soon after taking over as CEO at the immuno-oncology company.

Holloway says generating clinical data's a big focus for them in the near-term.

"Over the next two years we expect to see clinical readouts from two of our programmes - SCIB1 and Modi-1".

"We'll be extending our pipeline particularly around Moditope with the Modi-3 programme, if we're successful with the grand challenge".

"Then it's around looking at technical partnerships that will allow us to de-risk our developments".

Company Synopsis:

Cancer remains one of the world's most significant diseases. A key challenge in the fight against cancer is that many tumours continue to grow by successfully evading the body's own natural defence mechanism - the immune system. Scancell's mission is to overcome this breach in our defences by developing products that stimulate the immune system to treat or prevent cancer.
