Iofina maintains production despite tough winter and fewer plants

Tom Becker, chief executive of Iofina plc (LON:IOF) tells Proactive Investors they maintained iodine production in the latest quarter even with an exceptionally bad US winter and less plants in operation.

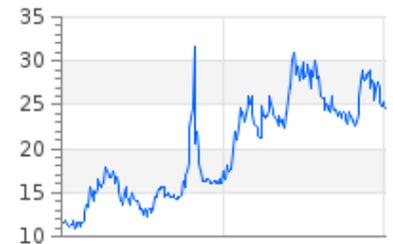

Two of the plants (IO#3 and IO#5) were offline at the start of the quarter, while parts of the US were hit by one of the coldest winters in living memory.

Even so, the group produced 118.2 metric tonnes (118.7Mt) in the three months to March.
