Landore Resources confident of publishing PEA on its BAM gold project this month

Richard Prickett, finance director at Landore Resources Ltd (LON:LND), tells Proactive London's Andrew Scott they've completed the first phase of a detailed metallurgical assessment of the BAM gold deposit on the Junior Lake property in Ontario.

Landore engaged Allard Engineering Services LLC of Tucson, Arizona, USA to undertake a programme designed to select a suitable process route for the BAM mineralised material.

The results show that 98% extraction of gold is achievable with conventional milling, grinding, gravity separation and cyanide leaching
