Bryah Resources reveals substantial manganese results

Bryah Resources Ltd (ASX:BYH) managing director Neil Marston updates Proactive Investors on recent manganese results obtained from drilling at its Brumby Creek prospect in WA. Marston notes drilling hit mineralisation at surface and just under the surface with widths of up to 15 metres and manganese grades in the mid 20% range with highs over 30%. "It's looking like a fresh discovery for us and has confirmed what we thought was good potential for that area to yield some tonnes," he says.
