Petra Diamonds' revenues decline

Petra Diamonds Limited (LON:PDL) lost some of their lustre, sliding 5.3% to 7.65p after the diamond miner underwhelmed with a trading update.

Revenue in the three months to the end of September - the first quarter of the company's fiscal year - was down 23% to US$61.6mln from US$80.2mln in the same period of 2018.

The company sold 603,626 carats, compared to 626,541 a year earlier, at prices roughly 4% lower than in the three months to the end of June.

1.15pm: Phoenix Global flames out as it sells producing assets to Echo Energy
Phoenix Global Resources PLC (LON:PGR) fell 13% to 15.55p after the Argentina-focused energy firm announced the sale of a non-core asset.

The company has entered into an agreement to sell its 70% non-operated working interest in the Santa Cruz Sur package of five mature production blocks to Echo Energy PLC (LON:ECH).

Echo will pay US$7mln in cash plus US$1.5mln worth of shares, each priced at 2.91p, and potentially US$1.5mln of deferred consideration contingent on reserve increases before October 2020. As part of the deal, Echo will also fund Phoenix's costs in a new well planned in the fourth quarter.

Shares in Echo were up 0.9%.

12.15pm: Trifast undone by profit warning

The share price of fastenings firm Trifast PLC (LON:TRI) came unhinged, shedding 17% at 159.5p, after a profit warning.

The difficult trading conditions referred to in July at the annual general meeting have continued into the second quarter of the company's financial year, with the motor car sector having a particularly tough time of it.

In the absence of further market deterioration, the group's underlying profit before tax in the current fiscal year is expected to be around £22mln; analysts had pencilled in a figure of £22.54mln for the year to the end of March 2020.

11.45am: Mind Gym stretches full-year revenue guidance

Mind Gym PLC (LON:MIND) said it expects full-year revenue will be slightly ahead of expectations.

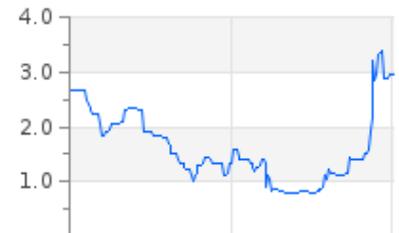

Shares in the personnel and talent management services provider rose 6.6% to 26p said its strategy of focusing on deepening key client relationships is paying off with an increased proportion of revenue from its top 25 accounts and an increased proportion of repeat revenue from existing clients.

Half-year profit before tax is expected to be "broadly consistent" with the same period of last year.

11.00am: Candy man could come calling for CapCo

A consortium led by Candy Ventures, an investment vehicle of Nicholas Candy, confirmed it is contemplating a bid for Capital & Counties Properties PLC (LON:CAPC).

The board of Capital & Counties responded by revealing it has not been approached by Candy Ventures or any other party.

Shares in the Covent Garden and Earls Court properties owner were 7.7% higher at 268.9p.

10.15am: Keras soars after getting the green light for Nayega

Keras Resources PLC (LON:KRS) has received the green light to undertake large scale mining at the Nayega manganese project in northern Togo.

Shares in the company surged 19% to 0.475p after it passed what Russell Lamming, the chief executive officer of Keras, called "a major milestone for the company".

"Our strategy of proving up the project through the fully funded 10,000-tonne bulk sampling programme has been validated, and the installed processing capacity allows us to commence production of beneficiated 38% manganese ore at a rate of 6,500tpm [tonnes per month] without investing any further capital," Lamming said.

9.30am: Watchstone makes its peace with Slater & Gordon

Shares in Watchstone Group PLC (LON:WTG) soared 37% to 147p after the company formerly known as Quindell settled its dispute with Slater & Gordon.

Aussie law firm Slater & Gordon had sued for reimbursement and compensation for the £637m acquisition of Watchstone's professional services arm.

While not admitting it had sold the law firm a pig in a poke, Watchstone has signed a deal that will see Slater & Gordon receive £11m of the £50m the UK company had put in escrow subject to resolution of the dispute.

— Dominic O'Connell (@dominicoc) October 21, 2019 8.45am: Image Scan falls into the red; Croma shareholders crabby after profits dip

A crack was evident in the share price of Image Scan Holdings Plc (LON:IGE) after a trading update from the x-ray screening systems specialist.

The shares slumped 11% to 0.975p after it reported sales in the year to the end of September tumbled to £2.4m from £3.5m the year before.

The company made an unaudited trading loss before tax of around £370,000, versus a profit the year before of £49,000.

Full-year results from Croma Security Solutions Group PLC (LON:CSSG), the security services provider, also failed to please the market.

The shares declined by 5.4% to 88p after the company said profit before tax in the year to the end of June fell to £1.45m from £1.98m the year before on the back of a slide in revenue to £34.6m from £35.1m.

On the plus side, the current financial year has begun well with good forward visibility from contracted revenues, Croma said.
