Canadian Overseas Petroleum Limited (LON:COPL) shares soared in Wednesday's early deals after the company unveiled what is described as a "game changing" acquisition, picking up Atomic Oil & Gas LLC. The transaction has a reported deal value of US$54m - comprising a US$1m deposit, US$26m of assumed debt, US$23m of debt and cash payments, plus US$4m in shares. It delivers producing assets in the US state of Wyoming, the Barron Flats Shannon Unit (57.7% owned by Atomic) and Cole Creek Unit (66.7% owned by Atomic).

AFC Energy PLC (LON:AFC) has signed a strategic partnership with Swiss electrical systems giant ABB to develop products for the electric vehicle charger market. The non-exclusive agreement will see the two companies work together to develop a bespoke high power EV charger that will be sold through ABB's market channels from the second half of 2021. AFC said it will supply its fuel cell technology with ABB providing the energy storage know-how and market-leading DC high power EV charge points.

Genedrive PLC (LON:GDR) has told the US Food & Drug Administration (FDA) it intends to import and distribute its 96 SARS-CoV-2 kit in the US prior to emergency use authorisation (EUA). The company said it had taken the decision in order to support its collaboration agreement with Beckman Coulter that will see the pair bring to the market a fully automated coronavirus (COVID-19) testing solution. It also wants to "exploit commercial opportunities". Genedrive pointed out the FDA does not object to the distribution of SARS-CoV-2 test kits without emergency use sign-off under certain defined conditions as coronavirus cases in the US continue to soar.

Tower Resources PLC (LON:TRP) has told investors that its 50% owned Algoa-Gamtoos license joint venture, offshore South Africa, will advance the project into the next phase of exploration. Operator New Age Energy, which also has 50% of the project, has formally agreed a second exploration period under the licence, Tower said in a statement. It will run for a two-year period and includes the obligation to shoot 300 square kilometres of 3D seismic data.

By that time, the company hopes that conditions relating to the ongoing coronavirus pandemic will have improved sufficiently such that it can welcome shareholders to the meeting. However, the present situation is evolving and the safety of shareholders is paramount. Nearer the time, the group's directors will consider whether it is appropriate, and in compliance with government guidelines, to invite shareholders to join the AGM in person. The company will notify shareholders of the arrangements for the AGM through its website at www.impaxam.com

Edison has issued a review on VietNam Holding PLC (LON:VNH) noting that the stock trades at a 24.6% discount to its NAV, which is the widest among its Vietnam-focused peers, possibly reflecting outdated investor perceptions based on the previous management and the relatively small size of the trust. It said: "The new board has implemented several changes over the past two years aimed at restructuring and broadening the appeal of the fund. These have already resulted in improving investment performance and there is further scope for the discount to narrow, particularly as the investment sentiment towards Vietnam improves."
